SECTION 01

Introduction

1.1 The Account Scaling Plan (the "Plan") describes how Docree Demo Funding (the "Company") progressively increases the simulated capital allocated to traders who demonstrate consistent profitability and disciplined risk management.

1.2 Scaling is a voluntary reward program. Traders are not required to scale, and scaling does not occur automatically. Each scaling step must be earned and explicitly requested by the trader.

SECTION 02

Scaling Eligibility

2.1 To be eligible for a scaling review, the trader's Funded Account must meet all of the following criteria:

- A minimum of four (4) months of active trading since account funding or the last scaling event.
- A net profit of at least 10% of the initial account balance during the scaling evaluation period.
- Profitable performance in at least three (3) out of four (4) months in the evaluation period.
- No breaches of the Trading Rules, including daily drawdown and maximum drawdown limits.
- Consistent risk management — no individual trade exceeding 2% of account balance in risk.

2.2 Traders meeting all eligibility criteria may request scaling through the trader dashboard. The Company will review each request individually and may request additional documentation or trading-plan clarification before approving the scaling.

SECTION 03

Scaling Tiers

3.1 The Company offers a structured scaling path. Each successful scaling event increases the account balance and the trader's profit share, according to the following schedule:

Tier	Account Size	Scaling Increment	Profit Split
Starter	$25,000	—	80%

Tier	Account Size	Scaling Increment	Profit Split
Tier 1	$50,000	+100%	80%
Tier 2	$100,000	+100%	85%
Tier 3	$200,000	+100%	85%
Tier 4	$400,000	+100%	90%
Elite	$1,000,000+	Discretionary	90%+

3.2 The scaling increments shown are typical benchmarks. Actual increments may vary based on the trader's performance quality, consistency, and instrument mix. Traders demonstrating exceptional performance may be eligible for accelerated scaling or higher profit splits.

3.3 The maximum account size available under this Plan is published on the Company's website and may be updated from time to time. Scaling beyond the Elite tier is subject to individual discussion and approval by the Company's risk committee.

SECTION 04

Scaling Process

4.1 Upon approval of a scaling request, the Company will:

- Credit the additional simulated capital to the trader's Funded Account within 2 business days.
- Update the maximum drawdown and daily drawdown thresholds proportionally to the new account size.
- Adjust the profit-split percentage to reflect the new tier, effective from the scaling date.
- Issue a confirmation email and updated terms via the trader dashboard.

4.2 The trader's accumulated profit share is paid out prior to the scaling adjustment. Open positions at the time of scaling remain open, but risk parameters will apply to the new, larger account balance from the scaling date forward.

4.3 Scaling is a one-way process under normal circumstances — once the account has been scaled up, it remains at the higher tier unless a reset or downgrade event occurs (see Section 5).

SECTION 05

Downgrades and Resets

5.1 In the following circumstances, the Company may downgrade or reset a scaled account:

- A breach of the Trading Rules, including exceeding maximum drawdown or daily loss limits.
- A significant change in trading style or risk profile that materially deviates from the trader's approved trading plan.
- Extended inactivity (no trading activity for a period exceeding 90 days).
- Discovery of rule violations or prohibited strategies retroactively identified in historical trades.

5.2 A downgrade resets the account to a lower tier (typically the starting tier or the tier before the most recent scaling event). Accumulated payouts are not clawed back, but profit-share terms revert to those of the lower tier.

5.3 Traders who lose their Funded Account due to a rule breach may re-enter the evaluation program at their own cost, subject to the standard Evaluation Rules and any cooldown period specified by the Company.

5.4 Questions regarding the scaling process may be directed to hello@docree.com.
